

Saving the "Asian Unicorn"

From Jesse Mulligan, 1-4pm \(/national/programmes/afternoons\), 1:19 pm on 20 October 2016

It's one of the rarest large animals on earth, and one of the greatest biological discoveries of last century.

The Soala was only discovered in 1992.

William Robichaud is the saola conservation program coordinator for the Global Wildlife Conservation.

The Saola illustration Photo:
<http://www.savethesaola.org>